This bibliography is the product of a careful search of the literature on the education of the teacher of socially disadvantaged children and youth. Research, theoretical, historical, and anecdotal material were examined in an attempt to arrive at a brief, representative list of references that would reflect the current thinking about the training needs of this teacher. The works cited as well as reports of specific teacher education programs throughout the country, including several OEO and NDEA teacher education institutes, are part of the Center's collection.
